

Everything I Am Not Saying: Thoughts transformed into poetry

I am but a small grain of sand Lying in a deep cave Under a vast ocean Rising and falling By the power of the moon Which shines brightly through the night In a cloudless sky Covering the earth In a mighty galaxy Of an endless universe Residing in the very left corner Of your lovely heart. - Small, by Crissi Langwell Before Crissi Langwell wrote fiction, she needed to find a way to create prose in her storytelling. Through poetry, she found it. These verses travel through emotions of love, heartache, joy, and despair. Some of the poems are true, many were poems wished to be true. And all of them are words that led to love, brand new worlds, and stories that needed to be told. This full-color book holds the poems that helped the ink start flowing.
