

The Freely Revolving Journal: A Classification of an Alien Existence

An African American man named Able Brown somehow finds out the world he thought was real was actually just an elaborate virtual reality video game created by a group of immortal extraterrestrials. Able realizes that he could kick-start a great resistance or he could join with the Aliens. Able ends up joining the Aliens. With the aid of the aliens Able and twelve others become immortals whom literally and figuratively rewrite history. Not only is this their story its History.
