

Eating Blackbirds

Seemingly disparate characters come together in this entertaining work of fiction. Sixteen and with a newborn daughter, Georgia has been kicked out of her city squat, but shed rather suffer her Uncle Gods supermarket shampoo and recycled tea-bags than go home to her mum and be reminded of the incident. After a lifetimes scrimping and saving, early retirement looms for Godfrey Palmer and his colleagues in Council Tax are in for quite a shock. For Mansel Big Face, Ducks n Dogshit officer, its time to climb out of the Superman tights and face the music; its time to come to the rescue, not cause the accident. When Georgia turns up on Godfreys doorstep she doesnt realize what a catalyst for change shes going to be.
