

One World or None: Prescription for Survival

Errol E. Harris examines the world's current political and ecological problems and presents cogent arguments for a viable global solution. Harris argues that the one practicable solution is the establishment of a World Authority democratically elected and empowered to enforce World Law. Accordingly, it is imperative that peoples and NGOs unite in an urgent campaign for the ratification of the Constitution for the Federation of Earth, already drafted by the World Constitution and Parliament Association, and discussed in detail in this important book.
