

Awakenings: The heart has a mind of its own...

Awakenings is a graphic lesbian erotic romance intended for a mature audience due to explicit content and language (18+). Megan is a sexy, confident woman who has an insatiable sexual appetite and maintains a few friends with benefits arrangements. She doesn't want a steady relationship. Been there, done that and learned her lesson the hard way. When women in her rotation list are unavailable, she has no moral dilemma visiting a nightclub, and like a tigress hunting her prey, Megan is no stranger to using her alluring assets to obtain a guest for the night. Addison is driving herself bat shit crazy waiting for a biopsy report. To top off the devastation, her fiancé prematurely headed for the hills at the mere mention of a breast lump. With too much idle time on her hands, Addison visits a nightclub intending to drink until she sinks into oblivion for some much-needed respite. She isn't there to meet anyone, especially not a woman, but Megan's irresistible, magnetic personality draws Addison in and has her questioning her sexuality from the moment they meet. Over two drinks and some light-hearted conversation, Megan talks Addison out of getting drunk and into following her home. One night with Megan and Addison's world is turned upside down. For the first time in her life, the concept of sexual chemistry comes to life. And now that she has experienced it, there's no turning back. Megan and Addison share impeccable chemistry that is riveting, and both women find themselves swimming in a sea of uncharted territory to discover who they really are beneath their protective layers.
