

So Long, and Thanks for All the Fish

So Long, and Thanks for All the Fish is the fourth book of the Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy trilogy written by Douglas Adams. Its title is the message left by the dolphins when they departed Planet Earth just before it was demolished to make way for a hyperspace bypass, as described in The Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy. The phrase has since been adopted by some science fiction fans as a humorous way to say goodbye and a song of the same name was featured in the 2005 film adaptation of The Hitchhikers Guide to the Galaxy.
