

The Color of Emptiness

In this literary legal thriller Katherine McDonald, a child abuse attorney in the New York Bronx Family Court, is stalked by a mysterious stranger while involved in the investigation of a serial killer targeting teenage boys. Katherine's dark world is that of hurt and abandoned children, not all of whom she can save. Against the advice of the Assistant District Attorney, she places herself in danger to protect an abused boy she has befriended. Suspense builds as Katherine races to find the killer who may be looking for her. In the aftermath of her brother's death and a bitter divorce, Katherine struggles to find the answer buried in her own past. She hides her guilt under a veneer of cynicism and dark humor. The Color of Emptiness, set in the gritty streets of the Bronx, explores issues of loss and personal responsibility.
