

In the Presence of Power

IN THE PRESENCE OF POWER US marines ambushed, the cargo they were transporting was stolen and the President of the United States wants to keep this quiet and have his own people investigate this!

But it wasn't to be, Jessica Parker and Tom Hawkins of the CIA are assigned to go undercover as reporters close to the scene of the ambush and are assigned to cover the one group of Marines that are suspected of initiating these attacks. But what they find is not what the evidence points to and now they find themselves in the middle along with this small unit running for their lives not only from those who ambushed the Marine Unit, but also from those behind the scenes who planned the attack. As they try to survive, they find the evidence to clear themselves of these hideous crimes but who can they give the information to? Who can they trust?
