

Theres more to it.

There comes a time in life where realization and life itself collide. All people experience it in different ways at different times. Growing up teaches a lot to people who let it happen. The quotes we were once taught as kids come before us. They say life is like a book and that everyday is a new chapter in our lives. This story focuses on a boy who lives in an ever-changing world, reality, and dream at the same time. At first, it is a day-to-day project for personal reflection, but it became more than that. It would also be so easy to tell more about the kid, his life, and everyone in it; but it's even easier to say that there's more to it.
