

Hello (Geek Force Five #5)

Hello, a short story by Brendan Flaherty, introduces Benjamin S. Marshall, an assassin who will work for anyone, so long as the cash is good. Feared and respected by both the mob and its enemies, he seems a nigh invincible figure until a curse from his days serving in the U.S. military comes back to haunt him. This volume also features The Way Back Down, by E. Christopher Clark, a tale of a lost sister found and her quest to get back to the strange underground civilization from whence she came.
